AFTER A TWO-WEEK RESPITE from the desk, we are back on the job.

But we use the term "back-on-the-job" loosely, with accent on BACK.

As some of you know, our back has been acting up for quite some time. Unfortunately, taking a bad back along on a vacation puts a damper on one's activities, especially along recreational lines.

Golf, for example, is out for the duration.

Actually for some time now the back-ache has been gone. It has been replaced, however, by a leg-ache, equally as painful and, of course, apparently is caused by the problem in the back.

OR, AT LEAST, that is what the experts on the subject claim, both amateur and professional of good standing.

Our particular back problem has been in the hands of a professional for some time.

But this has not precluded individuals who have had similar ailments, from sincerely and sympathetically offering remedies that had aided them when they were suffering back-aches.

IT IS AMAZING just how many people have had or are having back problems.

The sympathy one gets from members of the back-acher fraternity provides a degree of solace anyway, even if there is no therapeutic value involved.

We have given thought to forming a club comprised exclusively of back-achers. It would be unique in one way for there would be no members in "good standing". After all, one of the outward evidences of membership would have to be "poor standing", for the bent-over position is the mark of a real back-acher.

A CHARTER MEMBER of the club, for example, would be a friend of ours who named his one-acre "ranch", "The Back Acre".

But really there is a definite feeling of camaraderie among those of us who have been bothered with back pains.

At one recent City Council meeting, we recall, Councilman Homer Hyde, a back-acher alumnus, grimaced along with us as, each time to ease the throb, we changed our position at the press table.

Homer had personally undergone similar aches in the past. He knew why we were shifting.

WE HAVE ALSO LEARNED that what may have eased the pain for one individual may not work for another. Much to the disgust of our brother, John, for example, we shied away from his particular "cure".

A friend of ours pointed out, however, that he was willing to

County sets expressway bond vote

County supervisors this week set Feb. 7 as the date for a $114 million Phase II county expressway bond issue.

But Campbell's firm stand against the so-called 70% formula, which benefits non-expressway cities, gained two strong allies among the cities and may cause the supervisors to reflect seriously before the bond details are worked out.

The supervisors on Monday only specified the amount of the bonds ($114 million) and the date of the election (Feb. 7). The specifications of the bond issue will be approved at a later date.

Councilman and former mayor Charles Rose was spokesman for Campbell at the meeting in voicing vigorous opposition to the 70% formula. Sunnyvale and Santa Clara, the second and third largest cities in the county, joined Campbell in presenting objections to the formula which was put into effect in Phase I and has been approved for Phase II by the County Transportation Policy Committee, the guiding light for the whole expressway program.

Rose told the supervisors that Campbell favored the county expressway system but opposed the 70-30 policy which, he maintained, works to the advantage of cities without expressways. These communities, he said, can use 70% of the funds allotted to them for their own street improvements.

Rose said this was unfair to the taxpayers in the expressway cities. He explained that the expressway-city taxpayer not only would be forced to pay his share of the expressway bonds but additional taxes for the city's streets.

Non-expressway city taxpayers, on the other hand, would get a financial break and get their streets improved to boot. The expressway system should be financed on a county-wide basis--period, he emphasized.

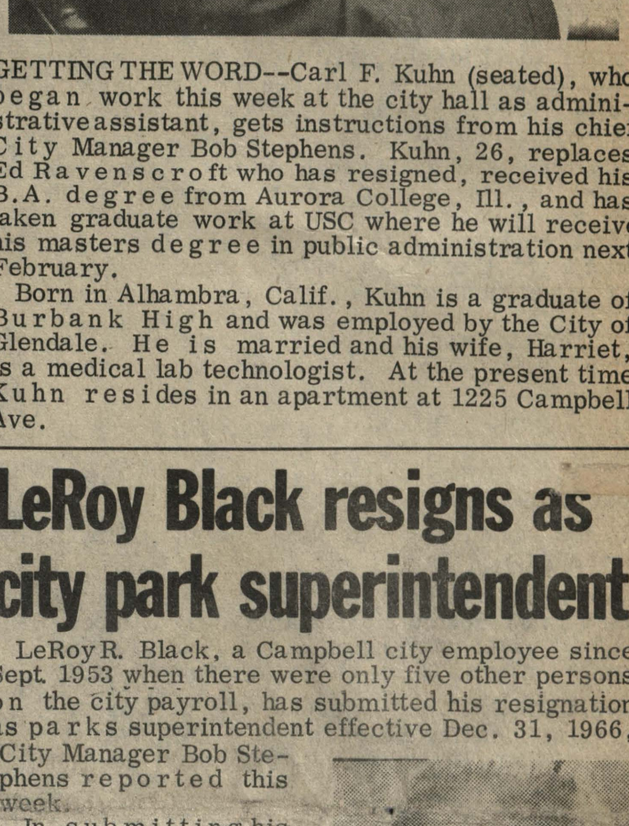
The former Campbell mayor in a direct slap at the cities that are pushing for the 70-30 formula, added, "Our taxpayers are just as good as those on the hill!"

Rose also pointed out that expressways take land off the tax rolls which is another loss for the expressway-cities.

Some supervisors expressed concern with the opposition and felt that the issue should be resolved before the bond date was set.

Observers of the scene agreed that with Sunnyvale and Santa Clara joining Campbell, the bond issue will have rough going unless some of the points are ironed out.

Campbell officials were elated with their new allies in the battle. Previously Campbell had stood alone. Councilman Bill Smeed, this city's representative on the Transportation Policy Committee, cast the lone negative vote against continuing the controversial 70-30 formula when the Committee approved the policy on Oct. 12.



GETTING THE WORD--Carl F. Kuhn (seated), who began work this week at the city hall as administrative assistant, gets instructions from his chief City Manager Bob Stephens. Kuhn, 26, replaces Ed Ravenscroft who has resigned, received his B.A. degree from Aurora College, Ill., and has taken graduate work at USC where he will receive his masters degree in public administration next February.

Born in Alhambra, Calif., Kuhn is a graduate of Burbank High and was employed by the City of Glendale. He is married and his wife, Harriet, is a medical lab technologist. At the present time Kuhn resides in an apartment at 1225 Campbell Ave.

Council grants franchise to television cable service firm

Campbell residents may get improved reception on their television sets and more extensive programs in the future, if the plans of the San Jose Cable TV Service are carried out.

On Monday night the City Council granted a franchise to the cable firm to operate, maintain and conduct the business of distributing television and radio signals to persons within the city by means of a community antenna system.

At the same meeting, the council awarded a storm drain construction contract to Steve Eachus Construction for $21,106.83, the lowest of eight bidders for the job.

The bids ranged from the low to $33,563, the highest of the eight. Next to the lowest bid was Sanco Pipelines at $23,777.80. The engineer's estimate was $28,244.

In other actions, the council:

--APPROVED the recommendation of City Manager Bob Stephens that the firm of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell & Co., be retained to audit the city accounts for the next year at the same fee as last year of $2800.

--DIRECTED the city's representatives to the Association of Bay

City asks action

Nudged by Councilman Homer Hyde, the City Council Monday directed the city staff to "pressure" county authorities to "do something" about the traffic confusion at expressway-Camden-Highway 17 complex compounded when two lanes on the expressway were extended last month from Campbell Ave.

At a joint meeting of the city council and supervisors on Sept. 26, it was agreed that James Pott, county public works director, and Bill Wren, his Campbell counterpart, should decide whether the expressway should again be closed at Campbell until after the construction of the interchange was completed, or, at least, until the Budd Ave. work is done.

A month has gone by and the two engineers have still not met, Hyde emphasized, in urging council action.

Educators host C. of C. members on Thursday

Members of the business community of Campbell will be guests of the educators of the Campbell high school and elementary school districts this Thursday, Oct. 27, for the annual Education-Business Day program.

Under the direction of Laurance J. Hill, high school district superintendent assisted by Neal Royer, elementary district chief, members of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce have a choice of 25 schools (six high school and 19 elementary) to visit.

The businessmen (who have been asked to indicate their preference of the school they wish to visit) will hold a joint meeting with the school people at 9:30 a.m. at Campbell Elementary (Cherry Lane).

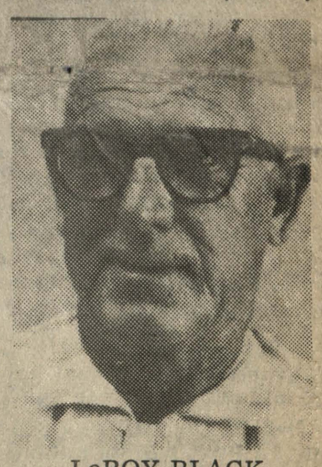
Name tags and school assignments will be available at that time and an educator-host will transport the C. of C. member to the school of his choice. Lunch will be served to the guests in the school cafeteria.

The program will terminate at 1 p.m.

The objective of the annual event which was instituted some years ago is to develop a better understanding between the educators and the business community.

LeRoy Black resigns as city park superintendent

LeRoy R. Black, a Campbell city employee since Sept. 1953 when there were only five other persons on the city payroll, has submitted his resignation as parks superintendent effective Dec. 31, 1966, City Manager Bob Stephens reported this week.



LeROY BLACK resigns

In submitting his resignation, Black explained that the Campbell park program at the present time is in more or less of a "dormant" stage and limited in scope. He said he desired to have a part in a more active development.

When "Blackie" came to Campbell 14 years ago, the city had been incorporated for a little more than one year and the entire city staff consisted of two policemen, two firemen and the city clerk.

Today there are approximately 90 people on the city payroll and only City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan, Fire Captain Bill Morgan and Fire Engineer Fred Jones outrank Black in point of seniority.

The population of Campbell in 1953 was approximately 7000 while today almost 22,000 live within the city limits.

Originally, Black was hired as a maintenance man in the public works department and he recalls that the first budget for that department was $10,000 including salary.

He later was appointed superintendent of streets and served in that capacity until July, 1965 when he became this city's first full-time park superintendent.

Although he has officially been head of the parks department since July, 1965, actually the city's park program has been under his direction for the entire 14 years he has been in Campbell.

Blackie estimates that during the 14 years, he has either personally planted or assisted in the planting of almost 2000 trees in the city, including those on streets, on the creek or in the parks.

The park superintendent recalls the 1955 "flood" as being one of the major highlights of his career in Campbell.

The abbreviated city staff plus elected officials worked around the clock when San Tomas Creek overflowed forcing the evacuation of many families from areas adjacent to the creek.

Black came to Campbell in 1953 after serving with the U.S. Marines in Korea. He and Mrs. Black lived for more than 11 years on Robway in Campbell and their children, Richard and Debra, attended the Campbell schools during that time. They recently moved to Curtner Ave. Richard, a graduate of Del Mar High, is now attending San Jose City College and Debra is enrolled in the Ida Price School in the Cambrian District.

Blackie throughout all his years in Campbell was particularly active in youth baseball activities, ranging from Little League through the Babe Ruth and American Legion program. He served as the first president of the Campbell Pony League.

He was also active in the Old Settlers celebrations, serving as parade chairman a number of times and as general chairman in 1965, the last year the celebration took place.

Black said that, although he has no definite plans as to where he will locate in the future, he is investigating a number of positions that are open in his particular field.

Vote YES on bonds

Voters in the West Valley Junior College District on Tuesday, November 8, for the third time since the junior college district was formed in 1963, are asked to approve a bond issue for the district to provide adequate facilities for the students of the district.

The Campbell Press, as it did in the other two occasions when the junior college bond issue was before the people, urges approval of the $21,500,000 bond issue on November 8.

We firmly believe it is the only logical step to take. It must be obvious to the most cynical observer that it will be increasingly difficult to provide quality instruction to students now crowded into temporary, inadequate and scattered facilities.

The Press has gone on record as opposed to an elaborate campus for any junior college. In our opinion, there is no need to "out-foothill Foothill". But we maintain that a junior college must have adequate facilities to accomplish its objectives.

The junior college has become a necessary adjunct to the educational picture. It provides academic and professional studies to meet transfer requirements for colleges and universities; it provides occupational-vocational programs for students who want specialized training for specific jobs; it provides broad general education courses; it provides a continuing education for adults and it provides a cultural center for communities.

What we are saying then, in effect, is that a junior college is important. Apparently the people in the West Valley Junior College District (comprised of the Campbell, Los Gatos and Santa Clara high school districts) agree, for by a substantial vote of the people in January, 1963, the West Valley Joint Junior College District was formed. The district serves some 300,000 people and obviously the need was there.

It seems logical to us then that, if the voters felt that a junior college was necessary it would follow just as logically, that proper facilities must be provided.

Hence a bond issue to obtain the facilities is necessary.

The college administration must be commended for accomplishing almost the "impossible" under working conditions that are also almost impossible in an antiquated facility.

West Valley College students who have transferred are making a higher grade point average at San Jose State than the average junior college transfer.

The college also has been accredited by a committee that collectively shook their heads over the cramped conditions. The committee questioned, however, how long a comprehensive educational program could be continued in face of the increasing enrollment.

There is no question in our mind that a new campus is needed to continue to provide high quality instruction for students now crowded into inadequate and even condemned facilities.

A new campus will also eliminate this district paying other districts to educate West Valley students because space is not available.

The $21.5 million bond issue (Proposition J) on your November 8 ballot will provide funds for the needed campus. We have long maintained that bond issues are the only fair means for spreading the costs of such projects.

True, "pay-as-you" financing sounds better to some. But the weakness of this method is that it would mean a continuous tax rise each year to provide funds for putting up one building at a time. Obviously it would take many years to even provide the minimum facilities and during all those years the problem of taking care of the thousands of students would still be with us.

Bond financing puts the burden of paying for the facilities on those who benefit most from them and reduces annual operating budgets and thus the tax-payer's burden.

But the basic point is that the passage of the $21.5 million bond issue will allow the needed facilities to be built immediately.

The need for the facilities has been established. Therefore, it is necessary to obtain the funds to get the job done.

The bond issue, if approved on November 8, will make it possible for the junior college to open its doors at the Santa Clara campus in 1969.

It is as simple as that.

The $21.5 million bond issue will also provide funds for the purchase of an additional site for a campus in the Cambrian-Campbell area.

Estimates of future enrollment indicate that three campuses will be needed eventually to take care of the junior college students in the district.

In urging a yes vote on November 8 for the $21,500,000 junior college bond issue (Proposition J), The Press maintains that it is a logical and necessary step in the development of West Valley College.

try all remedies he could learn about. He accepted gratefully the many and varied remedies and suggestions that were offered. But he admits he doesn't know which one helped him as he was going right down the list when he began walking straight again.

WE HAVEN'T DONE that as yet, although we admit we have listened attentively to all those who have offered advice and pills.

We have made a mental note of many of the views that have been presented for future reference so that, we, too, can tell other club members, after we are walking straight again, what to do to get rid of their back-aches on a sort of do-as-I-say not do-as-I-did bit.

ONE OF THE CLASSIC suggestions for helping back-achers came from Jeannie Sheehy, deputy city clerk.

Jeannie's suggestion was contained in a clever story she recounted to us. She used the proper dialect in telling it which made it that much more effective.

-0-

BUT SHE REALLY didn't help our leg/back ache by her story. In fact she could have made it worse, for we laughed so hard it emphasized the throb that much more.

We would spoil it if we tried to tell the story here, so we won't.

Suffice to say, Jeannie, that we haven't a nail in our shoe.

We checked that out a long time ago.

COUNCILMAN ED ROGERS, (Dr. Edward J. Rogers, professor of political science at San Jose State) is listed on the "panel of experts" at San Jose State which is comprised of 73 professors.

Ed's particular field is Latin America and each of these 73 profs is an expert in a particular area. Each one, according to the announcement made this week, is willing to offer commentary and interpretation of quick breaking news.

The announcement also explained that the panel was recruited from more than 1200 faculty members and the experts are willing to speak on short notice on topics ranging from aerospace medicine and air pollution to the stock market and the war of poverty.

WE ESPECIALLY liked the notation: "Nor do they need the usual professorial hours of preparation in making their commentaries. They are accessible by phone or available for personal interviews."

"These men and women, all articulate and throughly involved in contemporary events, freely offer their talents."

We are pleased that Ed Rogers, who is now in his second term as city councilman has been selected to such a distinguished group.

And we like the idea of the panel. We have an idea that program chairmen for various clubs are also going to like it.

No pile-up of mail seen here

Campbell Postmaster James Hurley reports there is no jam-up of first, second or fourth class mail at the local post office, although overtime hours have been banned in post offices throughout the nation. He also said 99 percent of all sample ballots were delivered last week, in ample time for the coming election Nov. 8.

"Third class mail is arriving a little late," Hurley admitted. He said he had a few boxes of samples still undelivered, and expected a deluge of campaign mail shortly.

Nevertheless, Hurley said, "unless they slug us real hard," he didn't expect to hire any pre-Christmas help at the present time. The Campbell Postmaster said he recruited his Christmas help from the Civil Service register, and has had good response from 44 persons who will be available for the Christmas mail rush.

Lights go on

Long-awaited traffic signals at Budd Ave. and Winchester were scheduled to begin operation on Wednesday (today), City Engineer Bill Wren informed the city council Monday night.

The announcement was greeted with enthusiastic applause by the councilmen.

THAT TIME is here again

Time will be the nemesis of many, Sunday, Oct. 30. On that date those who forgot to turn back the clock on retiring Saturday night will be an hour early at church or at whatever appointment they may have.

Anyway, for those who may have forgotten, this is the time of year for the semi-annual confusion as Campbell residents along with the rest of the nation, swing back to standard time after a prolonged seige of daylight savings time.

So, on retiring Saturday night (or at midnight if you must be technical) remember to turn back the clock to regain the hour lost last April. If confusion still remains, the slogan to remember is "Spring forward, fall back".

Art and flower show attracts 300

Three hundred visitors signed the guest book at the flower and art show presented jointly by the Campbell Garden Club and the Campbell Artist's Guild Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 22 and 23.

The displays were held in two rooms at Campbell High School and featured the work of local artists and amateur flower arrangers.

The beautiful paintings and watercolors carried out the same theme as the floral arrangements, Petals and Palettes. There were 33 paintings entered in the art exhibit.

Best of Show winner was Ignatius Banasewicz of San Jose. Other artists who took awards were Wanda Serena, first; Olive Furchner, second; Bertha McKay, third; and Gilda Kabbani, honorable mention. Judges for the Campbell Artist's Guild were Jeannine Gensiracusa and Janet Northup.

Mrs. Martha Harrell is president of the Campbell Artists Guild.

FLOWER SHOW

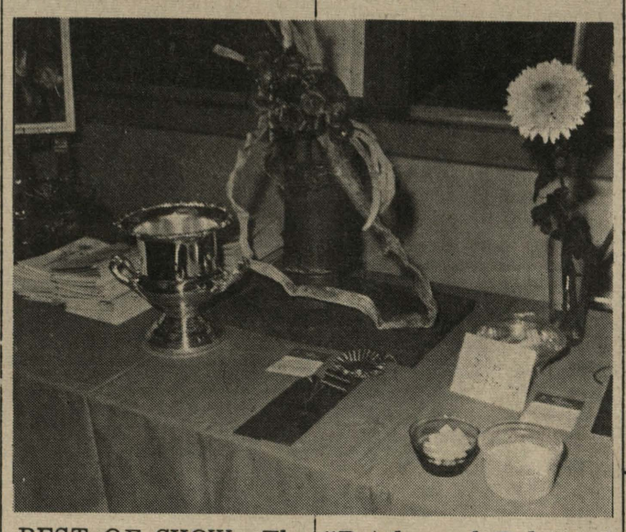
There were two divisions for entries in the flower show--artistic and horticulture. The Campbell Garden Club also gave Junior Achievement Awards.

Winner of the coveted "Best of Show" trophy was Mrs. Adeline Byington of the Flower Friends Club. She was presented the Lura Smith Memorial Trophy, a silver champagne cooler. This is a "traveling trophy" and entrants in next year's flower show will be eligible to win this trophy.

Mrs. Mary Triguiero, 186 N. Central Ave., Campbell, who is 86 years young, took the first place trophy in the horticulture division. She was presented a silver compote dish donated by Campbell Drugs.

Mrs. Triguiero, in spite of her years, does all her own gardening, and was named "Mother of the Year" by the Campbell Garden Club earlier this season.

Co-chairmen of this year's art and flower show were Mrs. K. R. McKay of Campbell Artists Guild and Mrs. R. J. Griffin of the Campbell Garden Club. Mrs. Ward Brannon is president of the Garden Club.



BEST OF SHOW--The Lura Smith Memorial Trophy was won by Adeline Byington of the Flower Friends Garden Club for her artistic arrangement entered in Campbell Garden Club's Standard Flower Show "Petals and Palettes" last weekend. Grass Roots

With the month of October, there begins a period of increased activity in the garden. They call it California's second spring, and that's pretty close to the mark. We see a new flush of spring-like bloom in all areas, but more than that we're planting everything from annuals to perennials to bulbs to shrubs, making the garden ready for winter and early spring.

October is the perfect month to remodel a garden. Since everything can be planted now or during the coming months of winter, this is the time to uproot the old and make ready for the new. A new foundation planting, a new border, a new hedge, a new lawn--one or all of these may make you a happier gardener next year; and now's the time to do something about it. Start with a plan; and if you lack the know-how to make up a plan for yourself, consult with a local member of the California Association of Nurserymen.

Now is definitely the time to work over the rose garden to make room for one of the four new All-America Rose Selections for 1967--Lucky Lady, Bewitched, Gay Princess, and Roman Holiday. These and other fine new roses will be reaching nurseries in another two months and the ground should be ready to receive them. Uproot old roses that have had their day and and rose that hasn't performed well in your garden. Turn the soil well to aerate it and work in soil conditioner, if it's needed. Also work in fertilizer at this time, then let the soil lie fallow until your new roses arrive in December.

This is the month to order new roses also, especially the All-America winners. Often as not, these are in short supply the first year when demand for them is greatest. By ordering now, you can insure delivery during the upcoming bareroot season.

Junior classes sell magazines - Halloween dance at Westmont

Del Mar Dateline

by LINDA DEL GRANDE

Del Mar's Senior class will present "My Sister Eileen" on November 17 and 18 in the cafetorium.

This year's Senior Play, written by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodsor, will be directed by Mr. Fisher and his assistant Mr. Anderson.

A few members of the cast are Marsha Hampton as Eileen Sherwood, Debbie Glassman playing the part of Ruth Sherwood and Marlen Schoomaker acting as Mr. Sherwood.

In order to promote the play, the Senior government class selling the most tickets will be rewarded with a free play from government.

Bonnie Beckett, Kathy Casey, Paul Egerman, Sarah Goodman and Loretta Lantz have been announced by Principal George Meskulin, as the semi-finalists in the 1966-67 Merit Scholarship competition.

These few Seniors are among the highest-scoring students in the State of California according to the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. More than 14,000 semi-finalists were appointed across the country after the test was administered last spring in 17,500 nationwide schools.

To qualify for a finalist, the Seniors must submit an endorsement of Del Mar substantiating their test performance on a second examination and information about their achievements and interests. 1967 Merit Scholars will then be selected from the finalist group.

The winners of the Merit Scholarship may choose their own college and courses of study. They may receive $400 to $6000 for four years of college, depending on their financial ability.

Del Mar's annual Twirp Week will be held October 31 through November 4. Twirp Week includes Slave Day, Hat Day and Silence to Boys Day.

Girls are subjected to boys on Slave Day. They must do such things as carry books for boys and walk them to class.

Funny and unusual hats may be worn to school on Hat Day, and girls may not utter a sound to boys on Silence to Boys Day.

To top off these events will be a Sadie Hawkins Dance, Friday evening in the cafetorium. This is a "girl ask boy" dance.

COMPETES FOR TITLE--Barbara Ann Perry, a junior at California State Polytechnic College in Pamona, is competing for the honor of Cal Pol Homecoming Queen for 1966. Barbara is the daughter of Mrs. Noona Wilson of 1019 Bismark Dr. in Campbell. She is sponsored by the Encinitas Hall. Homecoming will be held on Nov. 5.

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

For two days last week, achievement tests interrupted the usual class schedule at Campbell. Instead of the regular 55-minute periods, classes were alternately 40 to 70 minutes in length.

The 1966 Senior play, "See How They Run," will be presented Thursday and Friday, Oct. 27 and 28, at 8:00 p.m. in the Campbell auditorium. Correcting ticket prices quoted last week, admission will be 75¢ for adults and high school students and 50¢ for children. Tickets may be purchased from any senior student or at the door.

Complaints about the high prices of the cafeteria's a la carte system were finally answered. Principal Robert Culp explained that the school lost $11,000 last year due to the amount of food served and the price charged. Mr. Culp pointed out that in addition to offsetting the tremendous loss of money, the new system allows students to choose what they eat and also permits the awarding of a long overdue raise to the cooks.

MAGAZINE SALES

Campbell's Junior class has launched their main fund-raising event of the year, the annual magazine sale. Most popular magazines are offered at standard subscription rates for one, two, three, or more years. The class will reap a profit of approximately 30% of all sales, with special bonuses for out-selling last year's class. Prizes will be awarded to the top three salesmen, a stereo being the grand prize.

Campbell's grid squads take on the Braves of Blackford this week as visitors in the Redmen's camp. Both Buc teams evened their league records at 1 and 1 last week as the Soph-Frosh defeated Leigh 14-0 and the varsity lost to the Longhorns 14-7.

W.V. Vikings play Vallejo

Was West Valley College's football team spoiled by success?

Head coach Bob Jones hopes not.

Saturday night, Oct. 29, he'll find out when the Vikings travel to Vallejo to take on the Solano Falcons.

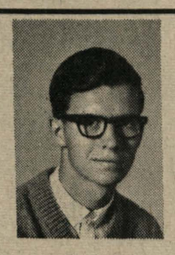
After looking like world-beaters against Menlo College two weeks ago, the Vikes were jolted from a deep sleep. They had visions of a two game win streak when Hartnell College turned on the lights with a 27-6 thrashing.

Against Solano, West Valley faces a team not quite as potent as the Panthers. In the five games it has played this year, it has been a winner once. The low-flying Falcons have had their wings clipped three times in Coast Conference play by powerhouses Hartnell, Monterey, and Laney.

But each new game breeds new optimism and Solano will be working for a reversal of last year's 21-2 loss to the Vikes.

West Valley won't make any drastic changes for the Falcons. Against Hartnell, the Vikings ran up 234 total yards which is more than their average. It was just a case of the Panthers being the classier team.

Warrior World



by RUSS LONG

Overcoming a 26-6 defeat by Saratoga the week before, the Warriors bounced back to defeat the Los Gatos Wildcats 31-19 Friday night on the loser's field.

Playing this year's only night game, the Warriors never left a doubt as to who controlled the game throughout the evening.

Even the band showed who was who. Entering to the music of "Khartoum," the band went into a formation via a drill and the music, "After You've Gone."

The crowd especially enjoyed those lovely lovelies, the "Satin Dolls." The Satin Dolls consists of 14 of the most lovely lasses in Westmont. And none of the male contingent will dispute that, at least not the Westmont fellows.

Intramural football continued between P.E. classes this week. Final standings are to be determined Thursday.

Juniors took the preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test Saturday morning. This is a test taken nationwide, and is an example of the Scholastic Aptitude Test taken in the senior year. The S.A.T., as it is called, is a college entrance exam, and the scores are reported to schools of the examinee's choice, as well as to his high school and himself.

Witches and all you other little creatures beware. The "House of Representatives" is going to put you in your place this Friday night from 8 to 11 p.m. in the Westmont Cafetorium. Dress is school attire or whatever you feel is right for a Halloween dance. Any attempts at haunting will not be prohibited.

Junior Journalists are sponsoring a pumpkin sweepstakes. For 10 cents a guess, how many nuts and stuff are in "Clem," the pumpkin? Winners will be announced at the dance. Prizes include a month's free guitar lessons, courtesy Maple Leaf Music, some free passes to the Straw Hat Pizza Supreme, and all the other goodies that are inside "Clem." Pumpkin pie, anyone?

Pep Club held a car wash last Saturday, to raise money for club activities. According to Cheryl Mansfield, Pep Club vice president, the club made over $150. Good work, girls.

Tuition bills total $631,000 at WV College

Out-of-district tuition bills for West Valley College this year will be approximately $631,000, President Wallace W. Hall has reported to the governing board of the District.

These charges are paid for West Valley residents attending out-of-district instituttions, generally in courses and programs not offered by West Valley College.

A measure of the savings by West Valley College in setting up its own facilities--even though temporary--is indicated by the fact that last year's bills for out-of-district instruction came to $923,000, and those of two years ago totaled $1,423,000.

Largest recipients of this year's bills were: San Jose City College, $520,000; Foothill, $98,780; Cabrillo, $6138 and San Mateo, $4205.

Many people die each year simply because of leaky exhaust systems, and there's really no excuse for it. Car owners can insure the safety of themselves, as well as their passengers, by knowing more about their cars and the danger of ignoring proper muffler maintenance and replacement. Owners should know, for instance, that modern high-compression engines and lower, longer cars are contributors to the possibility of muffler corrosion. And, although manufacturers and designers are doing the best they can to counteract these, more powerful engines, modern fuels, and short-trip driving all take their toll on the life of the exhaust system. So, the safety-conscious driver will check his system regularly . . . It may save his life . . .

Patricia Bratton, Fred Marcus and Fred Griffith are among the 651 academic trailblazers enrolled last week at the University of California's new campus at Santa Cruz.

Senior citizens in this area will be interested to learn that a 48 bed nursing home is scheduled to be built on one acre of property located between 60 and 80 N. Union Ave.

A large group of parents invaded the City Council chambers Monday night to ask for immediate protection of their youngsters who must cross the San Tomas Expressway construction on Campbell Ave. in order to get to Cherry Lane School.

5 YEARS AGO

Campbell's oldest church, the First Methodist Church of Campbell established here in 1888 with 12 members, this week launched a building fund drive for an expansion program to provide adequate facilities for its continually increasing congregation.

The newly-formed San Jose Opera Association will bring its first production to the area on Nov. 18 when Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" will be presented in the Roosevelt Junior High School auditorium. Robert Downs of Campbell is serving as technical director of the opera.

10 YEARS AGO

Sponsored by the merchants of the Campbell Shopping Center (Latimer at Winchester Rd.), a Halloween Party for the youngsters of the community is planned for next Wednesday, Oct. 31 at the shopping center.

Emerson "Doc" Arends, well-known Campbell businessman and civic leader, and chairman of the local campaign committee for the re-election of Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen, commended Allen this week for his part in achieving the all-time record high budget for county highway projects recently announced by the State Highway Commission.

Ever hear of someone working for the telephone company who dials wrong numbers? They're doing it all the time these days at the Campbell telephone office, but for a good reason. It's all to make sure things go smoothly when persons with FRanklin 8 numbers start dialing their own long distance calls Nov. 3.

15 YEARS AGO

Plans for a new $6,500,000 freeway along part of the Santa Cruz-San Jose highway to run through Campbell were made known by the California Highway Commission in Sacramento this week.

Plans are now underway for the construction of a five to seven unit shopping center on the corner of Rosemary Lane and Winchester Rd. The move, under the sponsorship of Vincent Carbone, San Jose Realtor, was given the green light by county planners at a meeting held last week.

Action on the part of officials and parents of the Moreland school district has brought about several safety measures designed to protect school children from traffic hazards on their way to and from school. County road crews have constructed a special bicycle walk-way along Payne Ave. for children riding bicycles and walking to school. Also, a crossing guard has been posted at the school.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. I will be 65 next month. Should I file for medicare now or wait until I am 65?

A. You should file immediately so that you will be covered by medicare when you reach 65. If you wait until you reach 65 to file you will not have medical insurance coverage until the following month.

Q. What is the enrollment period and what happens is I do not sign up for medicare during this period?

A. The first enrollment period runs for 7 months beginning three months before the month you reach 65, and ending three months after the month you are 65. For example, if you are 65 in January, your enrollment period would be from Sept. 1 through April 30. If you do not enroll during this first enrollment period you will have to wait until the next general enrollment period, Oct. 1, 1967 to December 31, 1967. However, you should file before the month you reach 65 to get protection immediately upon reaching 65.

Q. I will be 65 next year but I intend to keep on working full time. Can I get medicare?

A. Yes. The amount of money you earn does not affect your elegibility for medicare.

Q. My wife is nearly 65 but she is an invalid and cannot leave home. How can she sign up for medicare?

A. She should get in touch with the social security district office and they will help her to file her application in the three-month period before she reaches 65.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The 89th Congress, busiest since World War II, has finally adjourned with a record which some will approve and others disapprove. The second session which has just concluded was noteworthy for what it didn't do, while the first session last year was best known for the volume if not the quality of laws it passed.

The most surprising development of the 1966 legislative year was the failure to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Law which allows the people of the individual states to vote right-to-work laws if they want them. This, a prime objective of organized labor, failed in the Senate while the House applied the coupe de grace to federalized and liberalized unemployment insurance.

Civil rights legislation, passed in the House after almost three weeks' debate, was killed in the Senate for several reasons. Violence and uprisings have dulled public sympathy for pushing the civil rights movement too fast and open housing is not popular.

It is rather interesting that these three measures, all prime objectives of the Administration, failed in a Congress dominated overwhelmingly by liberals swept into office two years ago on President Johnson's coattails.

Some Administration bills passed with regularity and precision including a multimillion dollar demonstration cities program, a higher minimum wage (including agriculture), a sales participation act which allows the Administration to hide part of the national debt and pay higher interest rates, a Transportation Department and increased authorization for elementary and secondara as well as higher education.

Medicare is working well with far less difficulty than anticipated and justifies those of us who supported it. The medical profession is to be commended for complete cooperation and given a share of the credit for making the plan work. Dr. Philip Lee of Palo Alto has played an important role in coordinating the program.

The rent subsidy program was finally passed in the closing days over strenuous objection from the House. As it stands now, persons with incomes up to $14,000 per year can have their rent subsidized. Though $14,000 applies only to a couple with five children, there is no provision to handle situations where the combined income of the family may exceed $14,000.

The tendency to legislate by slogan ran wild at this session. The so-called "truth-in-packaging" bill was more label than content and the Poverty Program continues to be little more than a slogan with many plans, but few accomplishments. It has a ratio of "super grade" employees of 1 to 43, the highest in government. Poverty employees receive up to $25,000 while postal clerks and carriers are not allowed overtime and mountains of undelivered mail accumulate. Third class mail was actually burned in Chicago.

Some fine things were accomplished by the 89th Congress, but, taken on balance, it is this writer's opinion that too much money was spent, too many improperly planned programs were passed, too much was added to the national debt. The result is inflation and today's high-record cost of living.

Bradley speaks against Prop 4

State Senator Clark L. Bradley strongly urged a "No" vote on Proposition 4 on the Nov. 8 ballot in a series of speeches in Santa Clara County recently.

Bradley spoke at both the San Jose State College and San Jose City College, as well as addressing various Republican organizations.

Bradley, who is campaigning for re-election in the 14th Senatorial District, singled out Proposition 4 as an important measure to defeat, pointing out that it decreases from 66 2/3 percent to 60 percent the number of votes required to pass a general obligation bond issue for libraries and schools.

Bradley pointed out that the 66 2/3 percent vote requirement has been the standard requirement in order to protect the property owner in the passage of bonds which become a direct charge against the taxes paid on real estate.

"Since voting on a bond issue is open to all qualified voters, including those who rent property but who do not directly pay taxes as renters, the law since its inception in California has required more than a simple majority vote," Bradley declared.

BUSINESS NEWS

NEWS ABOUT LOCAL BUSINESSES, AND BUSINESS PEOPLE

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT!--Dick's Supermarket, located in the southwest corner of Campbell, at Hacienda and San Tomas Aquino Rd., is readying two more (or possibly more than that?) stores at the new Rolling Hills Shopping Center. Gene Yee, general manager of the Dick's Stores, announced concern over the customer's lack of familiarity of the area, and pointed out that several main arterys (main streets that is, Chief!) lead right to Dick's. Take Pollard Rd. from Winchester ...or..Quito, and turn at San Tomas Aquino; take Hacienda at Winchester (just beyond Sunnyoaks), and it leads right to Dick's!, or meander up San Tomas Aquino Rd., from Campbell Ave., and turn RIGHT, at Hacienda! The Foster Farms Rooster is there to "wake you up to this market's location!"

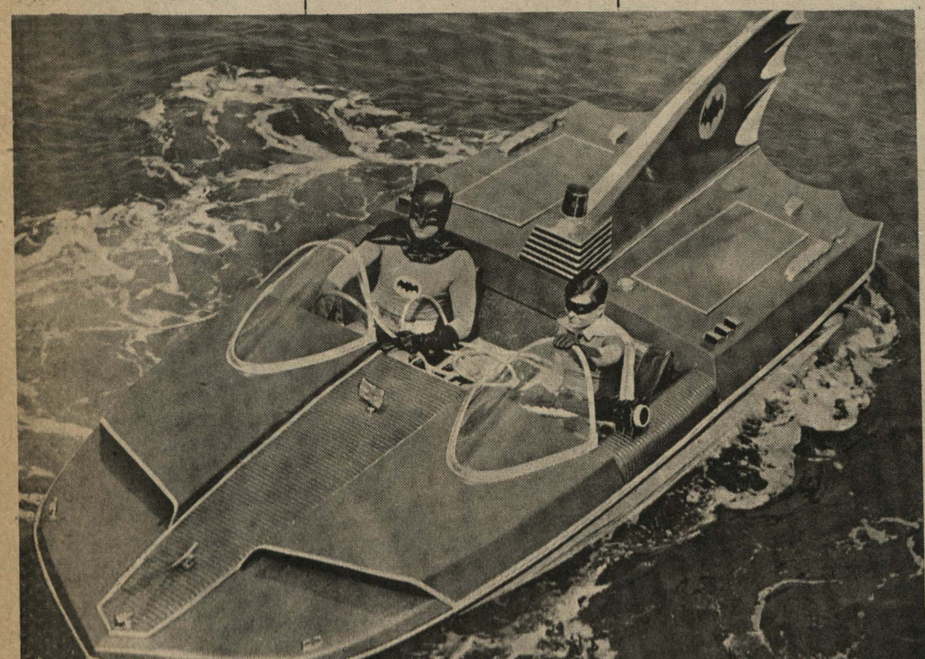
THEME BIRD--"Freddie," a die-cut poster dressed in Oakland Raiders football uniform and wearing his usual sunglasses (he's a farm-fresh California bird), is appearing at local meat counters to advertise the firm's sponsorship this season of radio broadcasts of Raiders games. Here, he meets with Foster Farms Sales Manager Wyatt "Dub" Davenport to discuss the "triple threat" sales program this year--plumper, meatier, fresher chicken. Free copies of Raiders schedules, as well as Foster Farms unique 20-page booklet, "Almost All About Chicken," are being distributed at local markets.



WHO'S AT "BAT"?--Here is an advance picture of the "Batboat" produced especially for Batman and Robin, by "Glastron" of Austin, Texas. "Batboat" will be featured at "Shony's" Boat Land during its Grand Opening this weekend. The batboat will first be used in the motion picture "Batman" appearing in August throughout the nation. It will also be shown in subsequent television shows, later in the season. A duplicate of the boat will be shown at major boat shows...Kids will be interested in "Shony's" big doings this weekend,

"THE PRESS...URE"...by Milt

Committee answers to college bond proposal

The West Valley College 21 million dollar bond proposal for construction of the first permanent campus in Santa Clara is to be voted on Nov. 8. The Campbell Press through information received from the Committee for West Valley College, provides some answers to the many questions that are being asked about the bond proposal. Here is the second half of the question and answer series:

Q. CAN THE DISTRICT OPERATE THE NEW COLLEGE WITHOUT INCREASING TAXES?

A. Yes it can. This year its assessed valuation is in excess of one half billion dollars. The State legislature has established a financial support program for junior colleges to assure the availability of funds amounting to at least $600 per year for the education of each full-time equivalent student (a.d.a.).

To this amount both the State and the district contribute, dependent upon the wealth of the district. If the assessed wealth of the district is above $180,000 per unit of a.d.a., the State will contribute no more than basic aid of $125 toward the $600. If the assessed wealth of the district is less than $180,000 per unit of a.d.a., the State will contribute more, dependent inversely upon the district's wealth.

Q. WHAT DOES THE TAX RATE FOR THE COLLEGE COST THE AVERAGE HOUSE OWNER?

A. Assuming that the assessable wealth of the average homeowner was $5000, in 1965-1966, he paid and will continue to pay upon the passage of the bond, $32.50 per year. ($5000 x .0065 = $32.50).

Q. WHY IS IT URGENT TO APPROVE THE BONDS NOW?

A. Approval now will provide adequate facilities in 1969. Should the bond issue fail to pass, these will be the consequences: Without passage of this bond issue, West Valley College will not receive the full amounts of State and Federal Funds to which it is entitled.

1. Overcrowding of temporary facilities.

Temporary facilities can be crowded only at the risk of impairing both teaching and learning. Even so, a point will soon be reached where students from West Valley will need to be diverted to other junior colleges at a greater cost to West Valley Junior College taxpayers.

In its report to the College, the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Accreditation Team stated: "It is recommended that the electorate of the district be fully informed that a continuance of the present reliance of temporary facilities will inevitably hamper the program of the College and injure both the students and the Community through the curtailment of educational offerings and the impairment of existing programs."...

2. Higher land and construction costs.

Rapidly diminishing areas of sufficient size for a junior college campus will only result in higher land acquisition costs in the future, if indeed, unimproved land is available. Construction costs are increasing at the rate of approximately $60,000 per month.

3. Continuing collegiate accreditation placed in jeopardy.

West Valley College was recently granted full accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. However, continuing accreditation for West Valley College will be dependent upon the provisions of permanent facilities designed for college instruction.

4. Loss of State and Federal grants.

All State and Federal grants for junior college construction are conditional upon the availability of local matching funds.

DIVERSIFIED SUPPORT--Indicative of the diversified support for Proposition J, the West Valley College bond issue, and the last item on the Nov. 8 ballot, is this group. Shown here are (left to right) Edward A. District; Frank Gillette, superintendent, Los Gatos Joint Union High School District; and Panelli, chairman, committee for West Valley College and former college trustee; Dale Scott, executive secretary, Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association. Laurance J. Hill, superintendent, Campbell Union High School

PG&E asks OK to credit gas refund on bills

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has asked the California Public Utilities Commission for approval of a plan to distribute to its gas customers $1,163,189 in refunds received from El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Under the plan, household and small general service customers would receive a credit of 27 cents on their November bills.

The refund is another in a series resulting from refunds paid by producers to El Paso on its purchases of natural gas from them. As part of a rate settlement following long litigation, El Paso agreed to pass on to its customers these producer rate refunds. PG&E, in turn, has distributed the refunds to its customers pursuant to plans previously authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission.

Since 1963, PG&E has refunded to its gas, electric and steam customers more than $60 million received from El Paso and has reduced its gas and electric rates following reductions in El Paso's rates.

ANATOMY OF A HIT
by Abe Laufe

What makes drama run? What makes long lines form at Broadway box offices? Is it the star? the production? the playwriting? Anatomy of a hit dissects Broadway plays from 1900 to the present--those which have had successful runs of 500 or more performances. The author skillfully singles out the hit-making ingredients in each production.

NEW CAREERS FOR THE POOR
by Arthur Pearl and Frank Riessman

This book offers a powerful new approach to the War on Poverty. The basic idea is to develop four to six million meaningful careers--not merely jobs--for the poor, in the helping professions such as social work, teaching, recreation and health service. Hiring the poor and unemployed to serve the poor is a fundamental attack on poverty in an automated age.

BUSINESS NEWS

NEWS ABOUT LOCAL BUSINESSES, AND BUSINESS PEOPLE

A "GIANT" AMONG MEN!--Tom Haller, popular Giant's catcher, took time out from a heavy schedule of autographing Campbell's young Giant Fans' baseballs, bats, dolls, slips of paper etc., to give a few tips to a couple of adult fans. Pictured above are two of Campbell's well known civic leaders, with the "hero-of-the-day", on the left, Dick Hardy, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and on the right, L.E. "Bill" Means. "Bill" is the man responsible for the memorable day! It was "Bill" who invited Tom Haller to come to Campbell Shopping Center and meet the folks!

SKIING OR "SHE-ING"? --Now is the season for readying yourself for winterland sports, and no matter how YOU pronounce it...ski-ing, or she-ing, it will all come about to the same conclusion...at the "end". Hartl Meller, manager of Winterland Ski Center, at 440 S. Winchester, has announced the "season is OPEN"! Providing expert skiing instructions will be Otto Sarlo, popular ski instructor at Dodge Ridge, who is also available at the shop to assist you in your selection of proper equipment, and winter-sportswear.

THE "UNION'S MINUTE MEN ARE "READY", AGAIN!--Glen's Union Service at 891 W. Hamilton Ave., (just west of San Tomas Expressway), is right up to the "minute" with all the services that the exasperated motorist needs when in distress ...or just for a windshield wiping! Glen Farris, proprietor, formerly with Saratoga Union Station, at Prospect and Saratoga Avenues, announced that his services will be available seven days a week, from 6:30 a.m. until 10 p.m., and a mechanic will be on duty all day (and available for 24 hours in emergencies!). Ray Hinson, mechanic, formerly with Gray's Texaco, on Hamilton Ave., is pictured in the background, framed in the doorway, while the "Boss" Glen Farris, is "up front" ready for business, "as usual".

"YUMPIN' YIMMINY" --The Smorgasbord House at the west end of the Kirkwood Plaza, on Campbell Ave., will be serving that famous Swedish cuisine very soon now! "SWEDEN HOUSE", as the sign in the above picture says, is "here"... soon, is a date that comes up awfully fast ...so keep your eye on that location!

Agriculture census shows drop of county farm acreage

Interesting figures just released as the result of the 1964 census of Agriculture for Santa Clara County, show that although the total number of farms in the country as compared to the 1959 census shows 714 farms less, the total value of farm income has only dropped $1,568,959.

For the first time in an agricultural census the amount of income received by the county farmers for recreational services was included, showing that $147,268 was received from this source.

Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. The data needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1840.

The preliminary report for the county contains more than 500 facts about agriculture in the county. Among additional facts it contains are the number of farms by size, type, and economic class; the number of farm operators by method of tenure, age, color, off-farm work, and number of school years completed; land in farms by use and by land-use practices; data on equipment and facilities; farm expenditures; number of hired workers; and number of farms reporting poultry and livestock production and those reporting crop production by acres and quantities as well as sales.

A total of 2631 farms was counted in Santa Clara County during the 1964 Census of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census reports.

In the last previous Census of Agriculture (1959), the total counted in the county was 3345 farms.

The 1964 total is published in a preliminary report on the county just issued. The report also shows that average farm size in the county was 174.1 acres and that the average value of the county's farms (land and buildings) in 1964 was $270,522.

Other important county statistics in the report are:

1. Value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964, $73,165,182; in 1959, $74,734,140.
2. Value of all crops sold by county farms in 1964, $53,582,101; in 1959, $60,902,912.
3. Value of all livestock and livestock products sold by county farms in 1964, $19,435,813; in 1959, $13,831,228.

SEARCH FOR A "SNOW QUEEN"

If you are a girl of 20 and look chic in ski wear and a swim suit, you have all the qualifications for an all-expense paid ski week in Aspen, Colo.

A search is now on by the California Ski and Winter Sports Show for a 20-year-old girl to fill the title of Miss Winter Sports. In addition to reigning over the Winter Sports Show in Masonic Auditorium Nov. 17-20, the girl who captures the crown will spend a free week in Aspen for the 20th Anniversary Aspen Winterskol. At this winter sports festival, she will also be San Francisco's candidate for Winterskol Queen.

Judging for Miss Winter Sports will be on the basis of poise, personality and attractiveness in ski apparel and swim suit competition.

Each entrant must submit her name, address, telephone number and school or present place of employment, along with a recent photograph, to: Contest Manager, California Ski and Winter Sports Show, 812 Howard St., San Francisco. Deadline for entries is midnight, Oct. 31.

Hartl Meller, manager of Winterland Ski Center, at 440 S. Winchester Blvd., endorsed the event, and stated that his establishment would be ready to aid all contestants in selecting their winter wardrobe.

Mrs Kenney returns from convention

Mrs. Julie Kenney (Max M.), president of the California Association of Medical Record Librarians has just returned from the American Associations of Medical Record Librarians Convention at Milwaukee, Wisc., Oct. 16-21.

As Supervisor of the Medical Record Department at O'Connor Hospital, Mrs. Kennedy who resides with her husband at 113 Cherry Lane, is responsible for the transcription of medical reports on all patients in the hospital, dictated by physicians into a centralized system.

Although O'Connor Hospital was established in 1889, the first brief medical records were written in 1913. These, along with records of the past 45 years are stored on reels in one filing cabinet in the basement of the hospital.

In 1965 Mrs. Kenney's department processed the medical records on over 18,000 discharged patients including 3200 new born babies, 8000 operations and 14,000 patients who were treated in the emergency room at O'Connor.

Carrier has bike stolen

Robert De Guc, ten-year-old Campbell Press carrier, will be delivering his papers on foot this afternoon, unless his bicycle is found in time.

Robert, of 453 Latimer Ave., received his 26 inch red bike for his birthday. There are five children in the De Guc family, and new bikes don't come easy.

This is the second time Robert has had a bike stolen. It was taken from Campbell Elementary School where he is in the sixth grade. Anyone with information concerning the bike is asked to call the Campbell Police Department.

DANGER AT HOME

Each year in this country about 10,000 persons are killed and nearly seven million injured in falls in and about their homes.

CONSTRUCTION COMPLETED

J.M. Newgent, T.G. & Y Western Division Vice President, has announced construction of his firm's 90th California Variety Store has been completed. The new unit is in the Campbell Plaza Shoping Center located at Budd Ave., and Winchester Boulevard, Campbell.

Newgent said store fixtures will be set immediately and the unit will be ready to open for business about November 25.

The new T.G. & Y. Store contains 7000 square feet and was developed by John A. Pursley of Campbell Plaza. Pursley Construction Company of Sunnyvale was the builder.

A Safeway Market, Campbell Plaza Drug and several service stores have been open in Campbell Plaza for some time.

Civil defense warning test to be held Friday at 11 a.m.

First in a countywide series of civil defense warning system tests will be conducted Friday, Oct. 28, at 11 a.m.

The test will consist of a one minute steady siren blast (the yellow or alert signal), one minute of silence, and one minute of rising and falling wail or a series of short blasts (the red or take cover signal).

Civil defense officials emphasize that the test will be conducted quarterly in the future as a means of checking the mechanical condition of warning equipment.

Officials also stress that sirens are an outdoor warning system, which may or may not be heard inside a building.

The countywide siren check, in conjunction with San Mateo County, was developed at the request of the Santa Clara County Fire Chiefs Association.

To alert the public and indicate survival action in an actual emergency, the Federal Office of Civil Defense has established two signals for outdoor warning devices:

Alert signal - a steady blast of three to five minutes, which indicates that attack is probably and that the public should turn on a radio to a local station for latest available information.

Take Cover signal - a wailing tone or series of short blasts for three minutes, which signifies that attack is imminent and that the public should take shelter immediately.

Local Emergency Broadcast System (EBS) stations authorized to remain on the air to relay survival information during a "live" alert are KXRX (1500), KEEN (1370), and KLOK (1170). All other Santa Clara County stations would leave the air.

Siren location for this area is at 480 E. Casey Rd.

Obituaries

ELVERT (BUD) WEEKS

Funeral services were held Saturday at Campbell Memorial Chapel for Elvert (Bud) Weeks, 46, former custodian for the Campbell High School District. Weeks was found dead at his home at 281 W. Latimer Ave., a victim of an apparent heart attack. Weeks had retired from the school district position because of a heart condition, officers said.

Weeks was a native of Campbell. He was the son of the late Maurice and Ethel Weeks. A veteran of World War II, he was a member of the Disabled American Veterans. He also was a member of the Campbell Volunteer Fire Department, the Campbell Lions Club and the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Cecile Lewis of San Jose and Mrs. Carol Harligan and Mrs. Maurine Drake, both of Campbell. Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery in San Jose.

MAMMALS

All mammals except primates are color blind.

Property tax bills in mail

Mailing of approximately 250,000 Santa Clara County property tax bills will be accomplished Oct. 27 and 28, according to Tax Collector Louis Lopes. Collections are to begin Oct. 31.

The Tax Collector's Office, which handles city and education taxes as well as assessments for county government, will be responsible for collection of some $188.5 million in real estate taxes and special property assessments, an increase of $22.5 million over last year.

At the request of the Board of Supervisors, tax bill notices will include an insert illustrating the county share of the property tax dollar. The insert leaflet also lists services provided by the county.

Another new wrinkle has been added by Lopes for the benefit and convenience of those taxpayers whose property assessments are paid by their mortgage company.

A memorandum copy of the tax statement will be sent to 100,000 such individuals as a means of avoiding the annual confusion when monthly payments are raised by mortgage companies.

Recent purchasers of property with trust funds for their tax payments will not receive the statement, but may secure information from their mortgage company.

GRAND OPENING--The date for the Grand Opening of Max D. "Shony" Schoenberger, and Arthur F. "Red" Bass's, "Shony's Boat Land", has been definitely set for this weekend. The architect's rendering of the finished building is in no way an exaggeration of this attractively planned "Marina". Drawings for some terrific prizes, refreshments for "young and old", and lots of exciting displays, will be featured. The young set will be thrilled to know that the "Batboat" will be on hand for their inspection..."BAM... ZOWIE!"

Sorensen fills vacancy on W.V. College board

A 42-year-old administrator in the Santa Clara County Offices has been named a trustee of the West Valley Joint Junior College District.

Robert A. Sorensen of 973 Eden Ave., San Jose, director of the General Services Agency of Santa Clara County, was unanimously named trustee-elect at a regular meeting of the governing board.

He replaces Edward A. Panelli, Saratoga attorney who resigned last Sept. 1 when he moved his place of residence out of the trustee area he represented, the Campbell Union High School District.

The Board selected Sorensen after nearly two months of interviews with a number of applicants for the vacancy. Panelli's term would have expired June 30, 1967 and Sorensen will stand for reelection in the April, 1967, school district elections.

Sorensen has concentrated his activities in public administration in both formal education and in his vocation during the past 25 years.

A native of Utah, he was brought to California by his parents when he was three years old. He graduated at Occidental College with a major in political science and undertook graduate study in public administration at the University of Southern California. He had had 17 years experience in government administration and presently is director of general services for the County of Santa Clara. Prior to his present assignment he served as Administrative Assistant to Santa Clara County Executive, Howard Campen.

Sorensen is a member of the college's advisory committee and in 1965-66 was chairman of its finance committee. He has served as president and member of the board of the Lynhaven Home and School Club and as a member of the board of the Cyprus Parent Teachers Association. He has lived in the Campbell Union High School District, which he will represent, for more than ten years.

Sorensen and his wife and four children live at 973 Eden Ave. in San Jose.

Letters to the Editor

CREEK IMPROVEMENT?

Dear Editor:

I question the so called improvement of the Los Gatos creek bed between Campbell and Camden Avenues. The natural trees and grasses were just getting well established. With just a little cleaning out this area could have been a very attractive natural park (without state or federal aid). There were several ponds with sloping banks ideally suited for safe fishing.

It now looks like there will be a deep channel with dangerous steep banks to keep the flood (?) waters in check. I had always thought that the Lexington and Vasona Dams had been built to hold back the flood waters. Why do we suddenly need a ten foot deep channel?

Again we have a prime example of one agency tearing something apart when another agency is trying to establish a series of parks along the creek bed. This should be the last straw. We must consolidate all of the water agencies in our valley and somehow see that they use more common sense in many of their projects.

EOC lists jobs for youths

The Neighborhood Youth Corp has immediate jobs for 45 persons in this county between 16 and 21 years of age, according to the Economic Opportunity Commission.

Anyone interested should check either of the two Youth Opportunity Centers in San Jose at 215 Balbach St. and 1660 E. Santa Clara St.

Albert Barringer, youth corp director at the EOC, reports that the jobs are aides and helpers in the school and public libraries, laboratories, cafeterias, city engineering offices, recreation departments and with non-profit agencies like the YWCA.

To get a job the person has to be over 16 years but younger than 22 years and his family must have a low income. The jobs pay $1.30 per hour.
